Take Simmons' Liver Regulator For all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen

WILL CURE DYSPEPSIA.

I MUST OWN that your Simmons' Liver Regulator fully deserves the popularity it has attained. As a family medicine it has no equal. It cured my wife of a malady I had counted incurable -that wolfsbane of our American people, Dyspensia.

A. E. P. ALBERT,
Professor in Nicholas Public School, Parish of Terrebonne, La.

MALARIOUS FEVERS You are at liberty to use my name in praise of your Regulator as prepared by you, and recommend it to every one as the best preventive for Fever and Ague in the world. I plant in southwestern Georgia, near Albany, Georgia, and must say that it has done more good on my plantation among my negroes than any medicine I ever used. It supersedes quinine if taken in time Yours, &c., Hon, B. H. HILL, Ga.

CONSTIPATION. TESTIMONY OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF GEORGIA.-I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, caused by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always, when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it is a good medicine for the derangement of the liver—at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it.

HIKAM WARNER,

Chief Justice of Georgia.

SICK HEADACHE. EDITORIAL-We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world oversaw. We have tried forty other remedies before Simmons' Liver Regulator, but none of them gave us more than temporary relief; but the

PATTI'S ENGAGEMENTS-Her Quarrel with Her Jealous Husband, -A Paris correspondent engaged to appear at the Italian Theatre, Paris, next November, and is expected to be Maria Clorinda Patti was boro in Madrid, April mermoor. The St. Petersburg Golos gives the following particulars of the culmination of the quarrel between Patti and her husband, the Marquis lately she was seized with a passion for a tenor (Nicolini or Nicholas) applauded by the same public. When young she had espoused a Lord, Count, Viscount, or Marquis, one knows not She was greatly taken with him. This husband administered in his own way the windpipe of his wife, which became for him a mine of gold. He adored his spouse; he was the first to arrive at the theatre, armed with his telescope, and it was he who gave the signals for applause. The young tenor finally came to cloud a sky that had thus far been serene. The husband, jealous, and not without reason, it is said, wished to prevent his wife from playing with the lover in question. It was even made one of the verbal conditions when the engagement with the Diva was signed. The director had promised; but how could he resist when the popular tenor came to him and offered him his talents gratis? And that is how Romeo and Juliet came to play together under the nose of the husband. An explosion was inevitable, and it took place recently. The actress was in her dressing room, her diamonds spread about, when the husband burst in like a bomb. Immediately was heard through the partition incoherent words, uttered in a furious tone. All about the theatre came up to listen. Husband and wife screamed together, each trying to out scream the other.

Finally these words were heard : "I gave you-you-a noble title; you have acted with me like a-' screams for aid: "Help! help!" The director had to break in the door. When the husband was ordered out he refused to go, saying that he was with his wife. "Take him out," the latter cried, longer a husband for me." He was put out, and the actress called upon those present to witness what had transpired. She should demand a separation; she had of-

A screaming voice responded:

A Paris letter of as late date as March 2 to the New York Times says that M'he Patti did not leave St. Petersburg with Nicolini, but with her female companion, her two servante, and her agent, though it appears that only a tew months ago Madame Nicolini made application for separation from her husband on the ground of his too great intimacy with Patti. The latter, however, denies all that beyond what is professional. In the suit for divorce Patti and her husband came before the court in Paris from opposite doors, and the judge granted her demand to live with her sister, M'me Strakosch, meanwhile, and fulfill her operatic engagements in St. Petersburg and
